MILLOM ABOVE.

This township adjoins Millom Below, and, as its name signifies, occupies the higher ground towards the interior. It contains about 3,184 rateable acres, besides 4,568 acres covered by tidal waters or marsh. The estimated rental is £4,820, and the rateable value £4,304. The population of Millom Above in 1881 was 672, a slight increase upon the previous census returns. The township contains two small villages, called The Hill and The Green, besides a number of scattered houses. The principal landowners are the Earl of Lonsdale, C. J. Myers, Esq., J.P., William Lewthwaite, Esq., J.P. and D.L., P. K. Dobson, Mrs. King, Matson Troughton, John Walker, and Anthony Shephard. Near Underhill a sulphur ore mine was opened in 1851, and the ore (iron pyrites) forwarded to Newcastle for the extraction of sulphur. Below Marshside are several saline springs, the waters of which possess aperient properties. They are called by the people of the district Holy Wells. At The Green is a public hall, erected in 1874 by Mr. Myers, of Dunningwell.

Post Office at J. Kirkby's, The Green. Letters arrive via Broughton-in-Furness at 9.0 a.m., and are despatched at 4.30 p.m.
