with slate, have a respectable appearance. Formerly a number of the inhabitants were employed in the home-spinning of woollen yarn, but the introduction of machinery has taken from them the emolument derived from that avocation; the principal trade now consists of the making hoops and brush stocks, considerable quantities of which are sent from hence, as well as iron, grain, malt, oak bark, and blue slate, not less than 2,000 tons of the latter article being shipped from here annually. The church of Broughton is dedicated to St. Mary Magdalen: the living is a perpetual curacy, in the incumbency of the Rev. William Pearson. 'The surrounding country is very mountainous, and abounds with the minerals peculiar to the Furness fells: the air is salubrious, and the inhabitants famed for their longevity; in evidence of which, a stone in the church-yard is shewn, under which repose the remains of seven members of the same family, whose ages were, at their decease, 78, 80, 84, 92, 94, 101 and 104 years. The weekly market is on Friday; and the fairs are the 27th April, 1st of August, and the first Friday in October, principally for horned cattle & mountain sheep. The chapelry contained, in 1821, 1,253 persons, and in 1831, 1,375.
